The Ianchelevici Museum showcases the sculptures and drawings of Idel Ianchelevici (1909-1994), as well as temporary art exhibitions. The collection comprises bronze and plaster sculptures, stone sculptures and medals retracing the career of this artist inspired by the human figure. Ianchelevici is well-known for his work "Resistant" in Breendonk and "Medal of Honour" in Belgium.

In addition to its role as a public exhibition and reception centre, the museum also manages the art collection of the town of La Louvière, comprising several thousand items (paintings, sculptures, ceramics, photos, etc.).
