Spanning a perimeter of 25 km, this museum tells the story of the Battle of Manhay from December 19th, 1944 until the Liberation on January 7th, 1945.

The museum harbours fascinating memorabilia, including full equipment donated by American veterans who fought at Manhay and civilian objects such as two statues from the village of Odeigne, located 4 km away.

Offering exceptional reconstructions, lifesize decors, photos, documents and multimedia, including screening of unique film archives, the museum promises a genuine voyage of the senses.
